Volume XVI

At High Point High, 1960 is, and will be, the best year of your life. It is a time to study, to learn, to determine what the years ahead can bring; a time of disappointments and successes; a time of confusion and calm—a unique way of life.

Remember the Fall of 1959 with its perfect Homecoming? Even though your team didn't win the game, it was still perfect because it was yours. Remember the class plays when the familiar auditorium stage acquired the air of Broadway?

The inspiring Christmas Pageant; mid-term exams and the moments when you wondered if study was worth the time; the basketball games you stood in line for, just to yell yourself hoarse for the Bison team because it was your team and you loved it—it was the winter of 1960, remember?

FOREWORD

Spring brought with her the festive proms, and the inevitable final exams with more late study hours. Sometimes you felt like quitting, yet knowledge brought a satisfying security.

When the last books were turned in and your locker was empty, waiting for the belongings of some other student in some other year, you became a little less anxious to leave the place that had been your home for the best years of your life. That night in June of 1960 you walked across the stage to receive your diploma—your ticket across the threshold to a new phase of life—adulthood. In your mind's eye you saw the year pass by again. Your year! Somehow the total of all those months produced a memory you will cherish always . . . We, the 1960 PEMICAN staff, hope we have captured this memory for you.

The new gymnasium, completed in 1957, houses all boys' physical education classes, and all boys' indoor sports. Private offices for the coaches, equipment rooms, class rooms, and the trophy case occupy space in the gym. The large basketball court, the relatively new electric scoreboard, and the folding bleachers, capable of seating a capacity crowd of 3,000, are main features of this Ferndale Drive building.

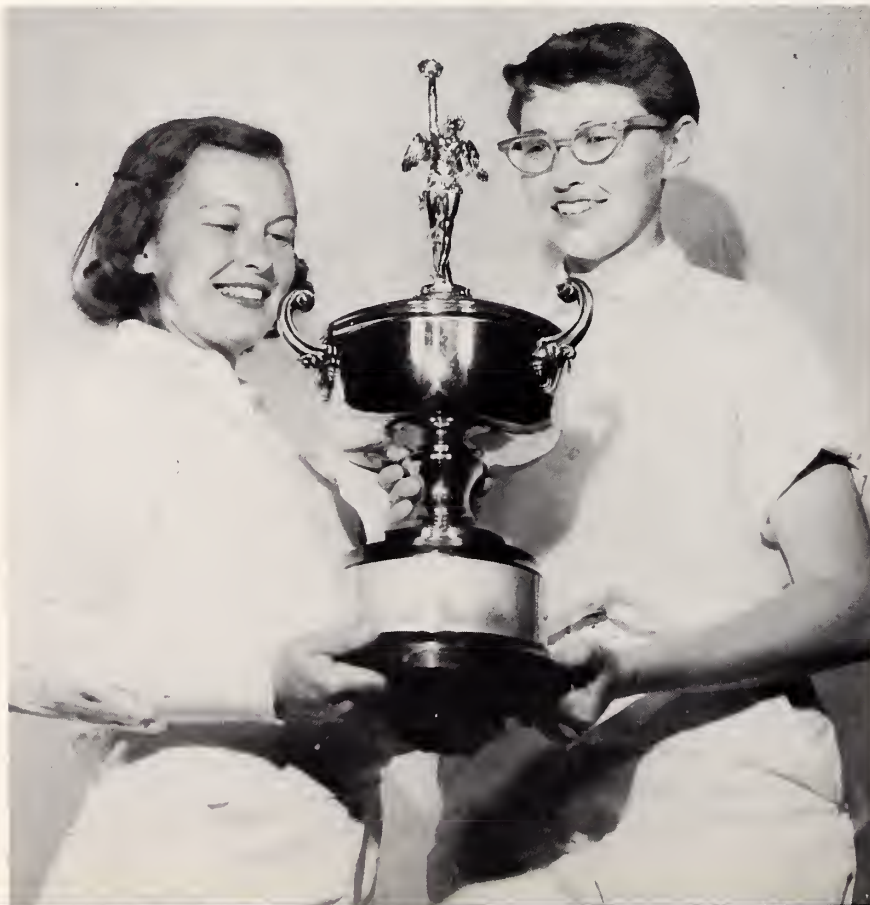

The now silent gym is filled with enthusiastic spectators at each home basketball game.

This large Bison head hanging in the gymnasium lobby greets each person who enters the building.

The closing month of school finds Mary Garrett, Dinah Nibelink, and Rosemary Heer eagerly thumbing through their long-awaited-for PEMICANS.

At High Point High School each instructor strives to produce not only a scholar, but a man.

Most of the school hours are spent in the classroom, studying and acquiring the knowledge born of great minds. The works of authors, old and modern, are read and discussed; mathematical principles are debated; history is applied to every-day life.

Through school-sponsored organizations, clubs, music and athletic programs, a student gains the qualities of leadership, "followership," and fair-play. Time is not devoted merely to one phase of endeavor: books do not exceed morals; morals do not exceed books. The two are placed on a plane together, and they work hand-in-hand to produce a well-rounded individual—a man.

Only a man with an unusually strong character could undertake and successfully fulfill the demanding duties of a high school principal. The students of High Point High have found such a man in their own principal, Mr. D. P. Whitley, Sr.

For twenty-three years, Mr. Whitley has served in this administrative position. He has worked unceasingly to make our school what it is today.

His was a twelve-month job.

Even when everyone else was enjoying summer vacation, Mr. Whitley was found at the high school working out schedules for students and faculty members.

During the school year, each of his days was spent in holding conferences, answering numerous questions, supervising extra-curricular activities, and watching over the operations of High Point High School. Mr. Whitley's integrity and unfailing resourcefulness were always sufficient to cope with any problem that might arise—whether it was new or old.

He was never too busy to help with a student's difficulties. His counsel was wise, his interest sincere. The hundreds of upright lives he has helped to mold bear witness to the influence of his character.

Mr. Whitley, we, the members of the Class of 1960, feel especially grateful that you have been our principal during our high school years. Your faith in us, as shown by your support of the Student Council and its projects, our Class activities, the clubs and organizations of our school, and especially your support of this publication, was a powerful spur to individual and group achievement.

It is with deep gratitude and love in our hearts that we dedicate this 1960 PEMICAN to you, Mr. D. P. Whitley, our principal, our counselor, our friend.

Mr. Whitley checks his engagement book.

Never too busy to help anyone, Mr. Whitley assists Mrs. Teague with a schedule card problem.

ADMINISTRATION

Leadership of 1,400 students was no easy job, but it was handled expertly by the local administration officials and the high school faculty.

The members of the school board and the superintendent of city schools spent many hours drawing up school schedules and handling the administrative end of the local system.

The school principal, the dean, and the guidance director found themselves extremely busy giving advice and counsel to students.

Teachers expounded their collective knowledge to their pupils for five hours a day, and kept order in a study hall for another 60 minutes.

The faculty, often the least appreciated, is the most important element of any school composition.

HIGH POINT CITY SCHOOL BOARD—Mr. W. H. Marlette, Mr. D. A. Rawley, Chairman W. A. Tomlinson, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, Mr. R. M. Campbell.

Chairman W. A. Tomlinson

Led by Chairman W. A. Tomlinson, the members of the High Point City School Board met monthly at the Administration Building on English Street. They discussed and decided many matters concerning the operation of local schools.

The duties of the school board were to approve the school budget, to set up the school calendar, to take charge of individual student assignments, and to approve purchases of school supplies.

Members of the board hold varied positions in the community. Mr. Tomlinson is president of Tomlinson of High Point, Inc.; Mrs. Thompson, treasurer of the board, is a homemaker; Mr. Rawley is president of the High Point Enterprise, Inc.; Mr. Marlette owns Piedmont Machine Company and Mr. Campbell is a building contractor.

Little publicized, these five citizens played a vital role in each student's school life.

Office Secretaries perform tasks efficiently;

Never too busy to help anyone, Mrs. Jackson answers a question for Mr. Marlette.

General Office secretaries, Mrs. Johnsie Jackson and Mrs. Doris Teague, were two of the best known personalities at High Point High. They were kept busy the year-round with records, telephone calls, and questions, but they were never too busy to offer a friendly "Hello" to everyone.

Mrs. Jackson supervised the bus drivers, wrote business letters, issued books, and handled the money affairs of the school.

Mrs. Teague was kept busy making transcripts of seniors' records to be sent to colleges, registering new students, answering telephone calls and inquiries, and filing statistical reports.

Senior High's faculty comprised over fifty instructors, teaching almost as many different courses. From 8:15 a.m., check-in time, until 3:30 p.m., when the final bell rang, teachers were kept busy in the classroom. Most instructors taught five classes each day, and kept order in a study hall.

A teacher's day did not end at 3:30. Many faculty members sponsored extra curricular activities. All had papers to check, tests to make out, and grades to average. Each of these tasks proved to be time-consuming, but devoted teachers did them willingly.

Many teachers participated in the activities of the Classroom Teachers Association and the North Carolina Education Association. A highlight of the year was Business-Industry-Education Day, when faculty members traded visits with local industries. This event was climaxed by a banquet, given by the Chamber of Commerce, in honor of teachers.

Howard Price, Susan Horney, and Freida Holt listen intently as Miss Hunter explains a Latin translation.

In the English classes, students strove to perfect their knowledge of spelling, punctuation, and vocabulary through a never-ending succession of themes, book reports, and term papers. While sophomores discovered the world of Silas Marner, juniors became familiar with American literature. Seniors, looking to college and the business world, found the term a mad rush to learn everything overlooked.

Although the Latin department lost many students of Roman culture with the transfer of first-year Latin to Junior High, the sophomores remained to study and idolize Caesar. Guided by Miss Hunter and stimulated by readings, films on Roman life, and special projects, students found that Latin is the key to understanding English.

Students take advantage

Enthusiastic first-year Spanish students tackled challenging vocabularies and translations, supplementing their studies with murals and scrapbooks. In addition to following their regular class work, the second-year students learned songs, poetry, and traditions of the Spanish people.

First-year French students were introduced to the language in either the sophomore or junior year. They studied French grammar and translated stories, improving their accents by listening to French pronunciation records. In addition to studying the customs and geography of France, the second-year students made an original tape-recording about High Point to send to the twin school, Lycee-Dupuy-de-Lome, Lorient, France.

Both the French and Spanish departments participated in the State Language Examination program; they also sent representatives to the Annual Language Day Celebration held at WCUNC. Lectures, plays, and a luncheon were highlights of the meeting.

Experimentation is key word in math and science

Mr. Palmer explains the operation of a generator to Barry Schultheiss.

The study of the slide rule is a major portion of Mrs. Shaw's advanced algebra course.

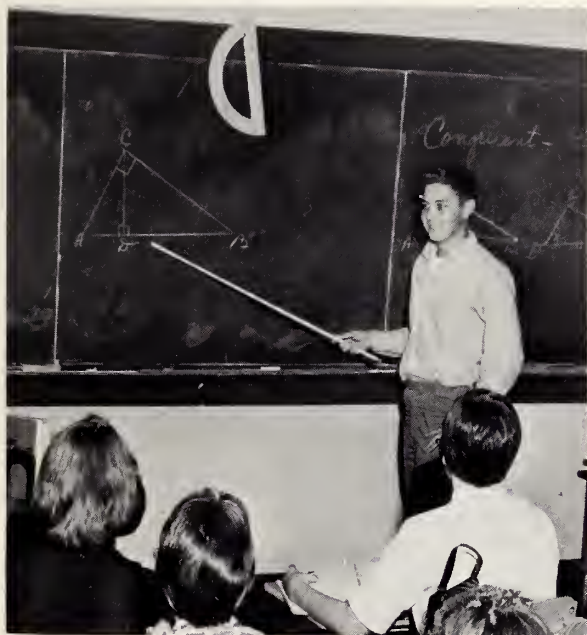

What is an "undefinable term"? Do "gray cells" really hop? In taking advantage of the excellent mathematics and science courses offered at High Point High School, students sought answers to these questions.

The Science Department endeavored to stimulate thought, to develop the scientific attitude, and to encourage experimentation. It inspired students to seek careers in the lucrative field of scientific endeavor and to gain an understanding of the part that science plays in our modern world. Biology students learned through dissection; aspiring chemists launched themselves into laboratory experiments; and physics students found excellent opportunities for scientific advancement through their Science Fair projects.

Miss Clement uses a chart to explain the classification of insects to biology students Linda Walker and Roger Franklin.

Therrell Shoaf demonstrates a plane geometry proof to Mrs. Stephens' fourth period class.

Mrs. Roberts assigns a chemistry experiment to one of her classes on lab day.

Many students were attracted by informative courses in mathematics. Pupils preparing for college struggled through algebra and plane geometry. Others, aiming for careers in the field of computation, tackled the elective subjects of advanced algebra, trigonometry, and solid geometry. If the business world beckoned, classes in general and business mathematics were available.

The interest shown in all these courses was a clear indication that students realized the importance of mathematics and science in the modern world.

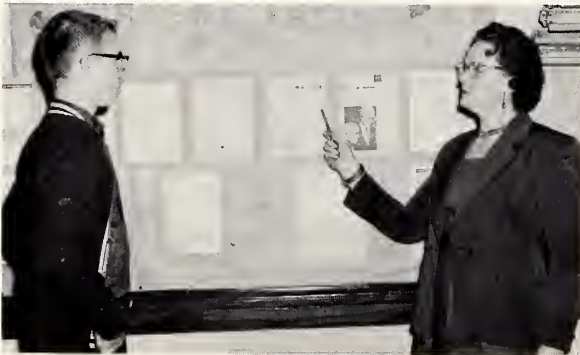

Students participating in a discussion in Mr. Palmer's trigonometry class are Leon Raper, Warren Bowers, Betty Ring, and Dan Poteat.

Mrs. Whitesell, world history teacher, points out Napoleon's Waterloo on a map of the Napoleonic Empire.

Today's men profit from yesterday's errors.

The study of current events is important in any social studies course. Miss Eleanor Tapp points out an article on the Middle East to Dan West, a student in one of her Problems of American Democracy classes.

Students in an American history class observe the boundaries of Louisiana stated in the Louisiana Purchase, as Miss Lindsay points them out on a territorial acquisition map.

American history, world history, geography, and problems of American democracy were the social studies courses offered at Senior High during the 1959-60 term. Connected with these subjects were many purposeful activities: parallel reading, historical movies, oral reports, and trips to nearby historic places.

Class discussion topics included current affairs as well as past events. The news magazines "Our Times" and "Every Week" provided a background for understanding the major issues of today.

To give a knowledge of the past in order to give a better understanding of the present; to broaden the outlook of students; and to help the students make intelligent decisions later when the responsibilities of citizenship rest upon them—these were the purposes of the social studies courses.

The rhythmic click-clack of typewriter keys was one of the most familiar sounds to be heard as one approached the business education department on the second floor. Besides the popular typing classes, many students chose advanced courses in shorthand and bookkeeping.

From the courses offered at High Point High, students developed skills for personal use at home and at college and received training for future careers.

Many students practiced what they had learned by working as student secretaries at school and by assisting teachers in the preparation of instructional materials. Others took part-time jobs in downtown offices and in elementary schools.

Mrs. Mallard smiles her approval as Linda Culler translates shorthand symbols.

Business courses are popular.

The skill of typing comes only from hours of practice. One of Mrs. Harris's classes proves that point by typing speed drills.

Mr. Walker and Charlotte Koon run off a stencil; this is one of the services that the business department performs for teachers.

Miss Molly Baldwin, a home economics practice teacher from High Point College, explains the Basic Four to a cooking class.

Home Ec students take up sewing for a part of the term. Here, Mrs. William's class is engaged in dress-making.

Working in the attractive first floor apartment, home economics students planned projects on child care and development, clothing, family economics, and relations, foods, health, housing, and interior decorating. In addition to learning about aspects of family living, the future homemakers gained skill in planning and working harmoniously with people of their own age. Knowledge obtained in these classes will be of great value to young people as they devote their lives to making a home and rearing a family.

From the nine industrial arts courses offered at High Point High School during the 1959-60 term, students gained valuable skills and acquired practical experience in planning, drawing, and constructing various objects of wood and metal.

In mechanical drawing classes, students learned how to make detailed drawings, house plans, and blue prints.

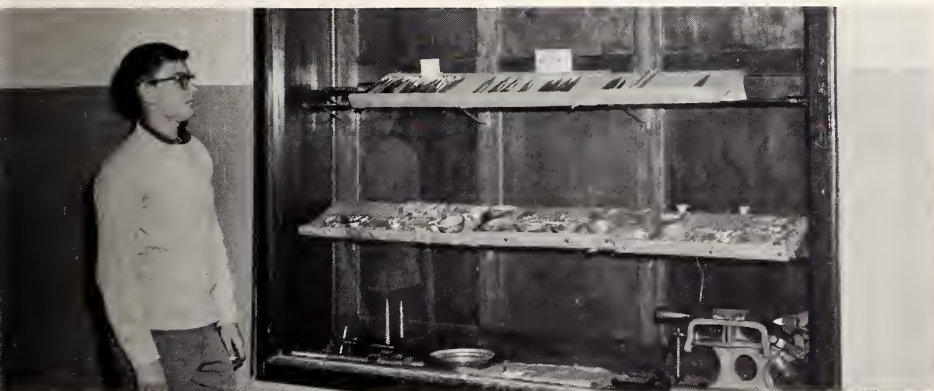

Tables, cedar chests, racks, wardrobes, and bedroom suites of oak, cedar, and walnut were some of the prized results of the boys in the wood shop classes.

In the four classes of metalwork, students learned to operate welders, metal lathes, milling machines, and surface grinders; and they produced such articles as service trays, ash trays, and lamp stands.

Albert Hazzard admires the projects in the metal shop display case.

Buddy Ridge uses his compass to make a mechanical drawing in Mr. Bays' class.

In a woodwork class Michael Blevins uses the sander under the watchful eye of Mr. Mann.

Students having Physical Education on their schedules looked forward to a period of fun as well as learning. Gymnastics, plus individual and team sports, made up a routine which helped them to develop muscular skills.

Led by Mrs. Elizabeth Grantham, the girls participated in the individual sports of track and tennis and the team sports of basketball, volleyball, speedball, soccer, and softball.

Coach Simeon and his assistants had a well-planned program designed to teach the boys skills and to insure enjoyment through participation in the various games. The program provided a wide variety of activities including the individual sports, track and tennis, and the team sports of football, basketball, wrestling, volleyball, and softball.

With good sportsmanship as its main goal, the physical education department strove for that spirit in both interclass and interscholastic games.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Miss Nancy Staley, maintained a large repertoire of popular and sacred works, which delighted many audiences.

Providing music for P.T.A. Open House, church groups, an Easter service, and assemblies were a few of the activities in which the choir participated. The presentation of "The Lights of Christmas" was the highlight of the first semester. Ending a busy year, the choir provided music for the graduation exercises and the baccalaureate service.

The Choralettes, sporting new jumpers, enjoyed a rewarding year of learning and singing. Performing for Open House, civic groups, and joining with all the choirs in presenting "The Lights of Christmas" provided the choir with a full schedule.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB OFFICERS—Louis Bissett, vice-president; Steve Ramsey, treasurer; Liz Oldham, president; Billy Burris, secretary.

GIRLS' CHORUS OFFICERS—Kay Hedrick, treasurer; Jo Hill, vice-president; Sandy Morris, president; Price Marsh, secretary.

The newly organized Boys' Glee Club participated in the program for the P.T.A. Open House and performed on several other special occasions, including the District Music Contest held in the spring. The Glee Club was composed largely of boys from the A Cappella Choir. The group's repertoire included both sacred and secular numbers.

GIRLS' CHORUS—Row 1: Staley, Caddell, Lindberg, Hedrick, Culler, DeLappe, Springer, Samet, Hindshaw, Kinney. Row 2: Dozier, Hodges, Newton, Surratt, Hendrix, Inman, Reagan, Fountain, Cox, Stone. Row 3: Hill, Causby, Teague, Lewallyn, Stinson, Reitzel, Shepherd, Marsh, Nixon, Jackson,

The Girls' Chorus joined with the A Cappella Choir, Choralettes, and Boys' Glee Club in presenting "The Lights of Christmas" and other special programs held throughout the year. Another high-light of the year was the participation of the group in the annual District Music Contest held in the spring.

The Small Ensemble, a choral group composed of advanced singers, met after school to prepare music to present at local civic club meetings.

Hart, Jackson, Sale, Marin, Butler, Hubbard. Row 4: Varner, Moore, Hedgecock, Kester, Miller.

Small Ensemble sings for civic groups.

THE COMMODORES—Row 1: Sherman, Maners, Torres, Zimmerman, Chiles, Gibson. Row 2: Jarrett, Walker, Wall, Turner, Strickland, Conrad, Helmstetler, Long.

The school dance band, known as the Commodores, furnished music for dances, the talent show, and Homecoming festivities. Under the direction of Mr. David Carter, the group practiced each seventh period throughout the year.

Outstanding students who took part in the music program of High Point High School were recognized at the annual Music Awards Assembly held in the spring of 1959. The highlight of the program was the presentation of the Arion Award to three senior students representing the three divisions of the music department—the choral groups, orchestra, and band. The Virginia Frank Award was given to the student in orchestra who had displayed outstanding musicianship and character.

Mr. Van der Steur presents Myers Powell with the Virginia Frank Music Award.

The 1959 Arion Award winners, Zella Moore, Roy Rockwell, and Ruth Pancoast display their medals.

Driver Education promotes safer driving.

Students taking the driver training course at High Point High School combined pleasure with their learning.

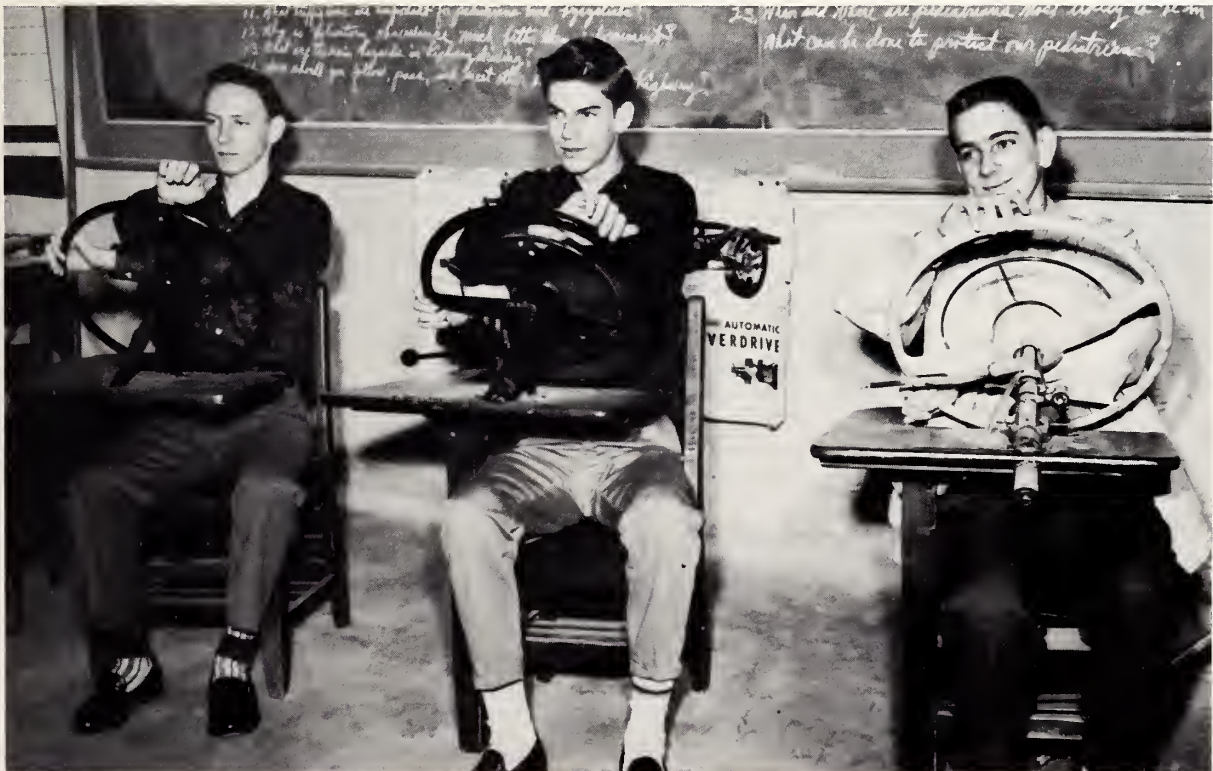

The nine-weeks' course, conducted by Mr. J. Frank Shields, was divided into two periods. In the classroom phase of study, students learned road rules and regulations and tested each other's reflex action, depth perception, ability to distinguish colors, and ability to see at night.

Behind the wheel of the dual control car, furnished by the English Motor Company and maintained by the Rotary Club, students mastered smooth starting and stopping, parking, turning, backing, maneuvering in traffic, and driving on the open highway.

Shirley Lavendar records Roger Woodell's reflex action time in a Driver Training classroom test.

Carl Williams, Kit Miller and Albert Madden practice the skill of hand-over-hand steering. This technique is later applied in the behind-the-wheel training.

BOOK TWO

CLASSES

Many individual personalities make up the student body of High Point High School. Just as each student is different in personality, so each is different in physical appearance, as is shown in this section of the Pemican. Each individual is important to 1960 at High Point High School.

For the first time in its history, High Point High School is minus a freshman class. Under the 6-3-3 educational plan adopted in 1959, ninth grade students pursue their education at Ferndale and Northeast junior high schools.

The ambitious seniors forge ahead, making the pathway clear for the promising junior class. The enterprising sophomores fall in line, each proud to be a part of a great school in 1960.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISER—Miss Frances Haywood.

On Commencement Night members of the Class of 1960 looked back over the activities of their senior year with pride and satisfaction.

From the senior class came the leaders of school organizations, athletic teams, and honoraries.

The busiest and most important year in their school career, 1959-60 for the seniors was filled with mascot and superlative selections; a delightful prom; and a successful play. The Class officers—Richard Carmichael, president; Myra Bullock, vice-president; Carole Kearns, secretary; and Lyman Dillon, treasurer—worked hand-in-hand with Miss Frances Haywood, class adviser, to lead the seniors through their final year at HPHS.

On June third, over three hundred seniors, full of hopes and ambitions, thinking about the past years, the present rushing days, and the unknown future, reached their goal—graduation.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Myra Bullock, vice-president; Lyman Dillon, treasurer; Richard Car-

JUNIOR CLASS ADVISER—Mr. Tony Simeon

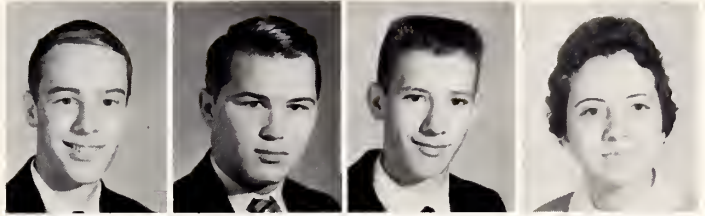

In September juniors elected their class officers: Trudge Herbert, president; Ricky Greeson, vice-president; Patsy Peatross, secretary; and Sharon Frazier, treasurer. Under the leadership of these officers and Mr. Tony Simeon, adviser, the juniors voted to have the traditional red-stoned class rings.

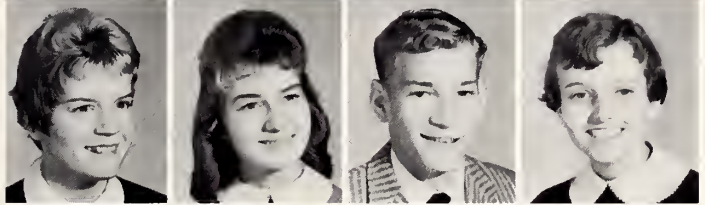

The outstanding class project for the year was the production of the comedy, "The Inner Willy." Presented on November 20 and 21, the play was under the direction of Miss Eleanor Tapp. Proceeds from this production defrayed the juniors' expenses for the annual Junior-Senior prom held in the spring.

Sophomores get into the swing of things.

The Sophomore Class was re-united in the fall after being divided between Ferndale Junior High and Senior High for a year.

In October the sophomores elected Steve Weavil, president; Brenda Hinkle, vice-president; Kay Hedrick, secretary; and Vicki Burton, treasurer.

These officers and Miss Landry Neely, class adviser, directed the class project, the annual magazine sale. High-selling Home-room-202-A was awarded a stuffed toy dog, and the top individual salesmen were given valuable prizes.

Proceeds from the sale financed the Sophomore Prom held in the spring.

ORGANIZATIONS

To encourage participation in its activity program, High Point High School offers its students two publications, four honorary societies, and fourteen other clubs and organizations. There is an organization to interest nearly every individual, each offering opportunities for leadership, service, education, and fellowship. These groups encourage special fields of endeavor: science, language, athletics, journalism, business, speech, teaching, and homemaking. Some of the fondest memories of the high school years center around the activities and projects of clubs and organizations.

The Pemican records

"To record the best of the year 1959-60" was the goal of the Pemican staff members as they strove to capture in picture and copy the main events of the school year.

A real spur to noble effort came when the yearbook ratings arrived last fall. The 1959 Pemican was named winner of a First Place honor by the National Scholastic Press Association and of an "A" rating by the National Yearbook Association.

The business staff, headed by Martha Ridge and Nancy Scarce, began early in September to sell advertisements. Soon afterwards, the editorial members began their work with pictures and copy to meet the February deadline. The staff worked under the leadership of Nancy Clinard, editor-in-chief; and Josephine Dunbar, associate editor. Miss Louise Tapp was adviser.

Composed of twenty-one members, the editorial staff of the Pointer turned out ten issues for the year 1959-60. From newsday to deadline, the staff worked, covering the news, writing feature articles, arranging interviews, and composing editorials. Mary Womack, editor-in-chief, and Mary Lynda Eagle, associate editor, led the staff, advised by Miss Eleanor Young. Other assistants were Jack Neal, feature editor; Larry Kilby, sports editor; and Bill Wyche, photographer.

Meanwhile, the twelve members of the business staff upheld the financial end of the paper. Under the supervision of Mrs. Lyda Sowers, adviser; Anne Pritchett, manager; and Joyce Groome, assistant manager; the staff sold many advertisements.

The Pointer was awarded a First Place Honor rating by the NSPA.

National Honor Society achieves goals

Membership in the National Honor Society is the greatest honor which can come to a High Point High School student, excepting only the NHS Service Award.

A few juniors and seniors with the highest achievements in scholarship, leadership, character, and service were tapped for membership by the old members in two impressive candlelight ceremonies during the year. After each induction, a reception was held in the home economics living room for new members and their parents.

Proceeds from the sale of calling cards and stationery defrayed induction expenses and financed a coke party given for the faculty in the fall.

Under the guidance of Miss Maxalynne Mourane, adviser, the National Honor Society helped to sponsor the annual College Day program in conjunction with the Beta Club, sent CARE packages to needy countries at Christmas time, issued a news letter to the 1958-59 members, and presented the school with a substantial gift.

Beta Club members

The Beta Club is an achievement-service organization for juniors with scholastic averages of 3.50 and seniors with averages of 3.00. Through their many activities the members, advised by Miss Geneva Highfill, upheld the club motto: "Let us lead by serving others."

At the fall induction, new members pledged to uphold the standards of achievement, character, and service. In October the Beta members joined with the National Honor Society in sponsoring the annual College Day program.

Three college scholarships—the Beta Club-Marsh Scholarship, the Beta Club-Lions Club Scholarship, and the Beta Club-Woman's Club Scholarship—were offered to senior members.

In April a busload of local members attended the state convention in Raleigh.

Talented students with a keen desire develop high quality speech were members of Masque and Gavel, a national honor society which recognizes students who have demonstrated growth as well as excellence in oral situations.

The HPHS chapter took part in the annual speaking contest sponsored by the Jaycees. Other public speaking contests were Voice of Democracy, World Peace Contest, and the American Legion Oratorical Contest. The outstanding project this year was the World Peace speaking contest in which members from HPHS were recognized for their outstanding speaking abilities.

The Masque and Gavel members also presented one-act plays, monologues, poetry interpretations, panel discussions, and radio programs during the year. Miss Ruth Goodman was the adviser.

“Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.” This was the motto of the Quill and Scroll, the international journalistic honor society of high school students. The local chapter was chartered in 1958. Members were chosen on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, and meritorious work on the staff of Pemican or Pointer.

The society encouraged and rewarded individual achievement in journalism and related fields. Several members of the organization planned to pursue writing as a vocation upon graduation from college.

Savant Society sponsors Science Fair.

The Science Club of HPHS, under the direction of Mr. Glenn Cox, provided an outlet for students interested in the many fields of science. At their meetings, held twice a month, members learned of the importance of science in everyday living through scientific films and demonstrations, lectures by science specialists, and tours through local industries.

In the spring the Club sponsored the Science Fair. Ferndale Junior High and Northeast Junior High were invited to submit entries. Winners of the local Science Fair were sent to the District Science Fair.

HPHS Key Club is host to district convention

Certainly one of the finest examples of workers "behind the scenes" was demonstrated by the Key Club. One of their projects was raising the flag each morning; another was serving as guides and parking attendants on College Day. At football games the boys sold programs for the convenience of fans who did not know their players; at basketball games they acted as ushers and helped to maintain order in the gymnasium. The highlight of the year was the Key Club District Convention held in High Point.

The boys met once a week, usually at the home of a member. Twice a year non-members were asked to compose paragraphs stating why they desired to become members of the club. Members were selected on the basis of the application and the all-round good character of the individual.

Officers were Bill Davis, president; Richard Carmichael, vice-president; Lyman Dillon, secretary; Ricky Greeson, treasurer; and Jerry Koontz, chaplain.

The National Forensic League, an organization of students interested in, and active in, speech activities, was advised by Mrs. Rachel Roberts. The group met bi-monthly throughout the school year.

Students were required to accumulate points, gained through speaking for various occasions, in order to become national members. Thereafter, they advanced in degree as their number of points increased. Two local NFL members, David R. Williams and Barry Hyman, received the highest NFL degree—the Degree of Distinction.

During the year local members attended several congresses held to give speakers opportunities to present and debate bills and resolutions. Dwight Wheless represented the Carolina District at the National Congress held in Miami, Florida, in 1959.

The debating team was composed of local NFL members. At the Wake Forest Tournament the Negative Debating Team won a superior rating.

The Y-Teens were divided into eight clubs, each of which met one hour a week at the YWCA, where they discussed topics of interest to the girls. They did much to promote Christian fellowship through their many activities. Under the leadership of their advisers and Miss Betsy Huggins, the girls planned and carried out programs designed to increase fun, fellowship, and an understanding of themselves and others.

During Christmas the Y-Teens participated in a caroling expedition, in the Hanging of the Greens, and in the annual Christmas Vespers. Also they played Santa Claus to several needy families.

Along with several social activities, the Y-Teens sponsored trips to Old Salem, New York City, and Washington, D. C.

The Hi-Y club of High Point High, under the guidance of Mr. Murphy Osborne, was sponsored by the YMCA for the encouragement of character development and the promotion of Christian ideals.

The members of the organization conducted regular business meetings and sponsored several social events. In addition to their regular activities the boys sent contributions to Boys' Town and World Service. In all their activities Hi-Y members sought to carry out the purpose of the organization: "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character."

Officers of the Hi-Y for the year 1959-1960 were Gary Gregg, president; Harry Black, vice-president; Jimmy Reddick, secretary; Buddy Ridge, treasurer; and Jim Fuller, chaplain.

Jr. Red Cross promotes international understanding.

The Junior Red Cross Council, under the guidance of Miss Louisa Hatch, sponsored many worthwhile activities. In co-operation with the American Red Cross, the Council participated in such activities as helping on the bloodmobile, assisting in the hospital as nurses' aides, working at the orthopedic center, donating favors to the veterans' hospital in Salisbury, helping in the annual Red Cross Drive, and sending gift chests overseas.

Officers of the Junior Red Cross Council for the year 1959-1960 were Bill Mickey, president; Rita Waller, vice-president; and Marcia Holder, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Executive Board included Gaynell Cromer, Jean Craven, Nancy Shelton, Joy Watkins, Patsy Peatross, and Becky Bradner.

The local FHA chapter played hostess to the District V Rally held here in the fall.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Mozelle Williams and Mrs. Gwendolyn Griffin, advisers, the members of the High Point High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America proved to be efficient hostesses of the Fifth District Rally held in High Point. Two other rallies, county and state, brought together future homemakers interested in better family living.

FHA members served at faculty teas and assisted at the NHS induction and on College Day. They also gave a needy family clothing and food at Christmas.

Eager young people bustled about in a business-like way as they checked last-minute details at High Point College, scene of the state convention of Future Teachers of America. Members of the High Point High School Chapter, acting as hosts, presented a skit as a part of the convention program.

Service was the motto of the FTA, and the members proved their efficiency by serving at numerous dinners held for local organizations. In addition, they acted as guides when several hundred teachers of the NCEA District met at HPHS in October.

Advised by Mrs. Mallard and Miss Shumaker, the club had as its principal service projects rendering clerical assistance to teachers, and serving at banquets. In March 1959 several members attended the state FBLA convention held in Durham. Those attending as delegates were Donna Watson, Elaine Kearns, Diana Jester, Doris Lambeth, and Miss Ruth Price.

Officers of the FBLA were Diana Jester, president; Elaine Kearns, vice-president; Doris Lambeth, secretary; Wanda Shumate, treasurer; Elaine Freeze, historian; and Lynda Lance, program chairman.

The Library Club, composed mainly of students from the library staff, performed many services for the school and, at the same time, surveyed the field of library science as a possible vocation.

Under the direction of Mrs. Nancy K. Poston, the organization held its regular meetings on the first Monday of each month. The most important project undertaken by the club during the year was the repairing of library books.

A member of the North Carolina Association of Library Clubs, the HPHS chapter sent delegates to both district and state conventions. Carol Ann Bryden and Ray Hester attended the state convention held at WCUNC in Greensboro.

The French Club met every month at the home of one of its members to learn more about France, the French language, and French customs.

Many interesting and varied programs provided enjoyable entertainment and presented valuable information. Dramatizations and skits, given in both French and English, described French literature, art, and music.

Advised by Miss Mary McDavid, the club was led by Carole Simeon, president; Liz Oldham, vice-president; and Nancy Culler, secretary-treasurer.

French Club members took an active part in the observation of National Language Week. They also encouraged upcoming sophomores and juniors to study French.

The Spanish Club comprised Spanish students interested in learning more about Spanish countries, their people, and their customs. Sponsored by Mrs. Marsha Lowe, the club met monthly at the public library or in the home of a member.

Officers of the Spanish Club were Richard Rackley, president; Jane Webb, vice-president; Rose Anne Boyles, secretary; and Libby Chandler, treasurer.

The members took an active part in the observance of Foreign Language Week. They encouraged rising juniors to consider Spanish as their foreign language. Choice activities included serving to students a sample of Spanish food on Spanish Day and in giving devotions in Spanish.

The Monogram Club, composed of lettermen in athletics purchased a victory flag for football, basketball, track, wrestling, tennis, golf, and baseball, which was flown each time the individual team won a match. To boost their treasury, the group sold Bison booster tags, car stickers, and candy. In their program of mutual helpfulness, they tried to encourage boys in their school work.

The Monogram Club members sought always to carry out the purpose of the organization—"to help develop at High Point High School the highest athletic standards on a foundation of true sportsmanship, and to create a closer bond of fellowship and loyalty between lettermen."

Coach A. J. Simeon, athletic director, advised the Monogram Club.

High Point's fast-stepping Bisonettes ran up a record 86 points to cop the 9th annual AAA Sportsday held here in April. Greensboro finished second with 70 points.

The Bisonettes grabbed first places in most of the events, to walk away with their seventh crown in nine years.

First place finish went to the Bisonettes in horseshoes, with Judy Cecil successfully defending her horseshoe crown.

Brenda Jo Thomas took a first place in the 50-yard dash with 7.3 time, and Rainey Wright finished out front in the 75-yard dash with a 10.0 time.

Ronda Glenn copped a first in the softball throw with a toss of 175 feet, 6.5 inches. The Bisonettes took a first in softball after downing Greensboro, Salisbury, and Durham.

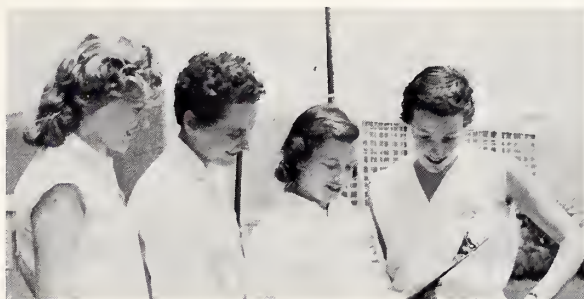

The High Pointers also attended the GAA Play Day at WCUNC, bringing home a first place in bowling.

ACTIVITIES

For those students who were athletically inclined, Senior High offered a varied program of interscholastic competitive sports. Football, basketball, wrestling, tennis, golf, track, and baseball filled the school calendar with exciting contests.

Many students served their teachers and classmates as office and library assistants, bus drivers, store clerks, and student secretaries. Several students served on the Student Council. Others who were vital to the smooth operation of HPHS included the maids, the janitors, the nightwatchman, and other professional assistants.

Football team shows high spirit and good

Playing under a new coach, Herb Hipps, the Black Bison ended the football season with a record of two wins and seven losses, yet they defeated two of the hottest teams in the conference.

The HP boys showed excellent sportsmanship at each contest and improved as the season progressed.

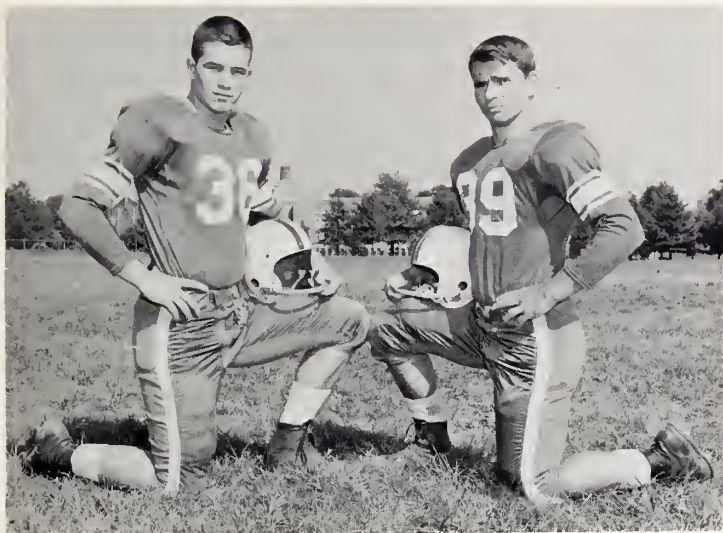

REIDSVILLE: The Bison started off the season by losing a thriller to the Reidsville Golden Lions. Trailing 12-0, the Bison came back in the second quarter to drive 60 yards, with Mabe going over for the TD. In the third period Marley scored with a 72-yard jaunt that deadlocked the ballgame. Reidsville retaliated in the last three minutes with a 57-yard drive, scoring in the last twenty seconds of play to win 20-18.

WILMINGTON: The opening home game pitted the Bison against the Wilmington team. By the fourth period the Wildcats led 19-0, but with nine minutes on the clock, the Bison came to life. After the High Pointers picked up a first down, Dillon hit Marley with a 21-yard pass. The play set up the touchdown, with Dillon sneaking over from the two. In the last six minutes of play, Dillon hit End Ritchie with a 48-yard TD pass. Black kicked the extra point. Again the Bison took over on downs; and as time ran out, Mabe fought to the one.

DURHAM: Although the Bison played a hard-hitting game against Durham, nothing seemed to go right for them. The only bright spot was an 86-yard kick-off return by Fuller for the only Bison score. Black kicked the extra point, and the Bison led 7-6. But Durham scored again in the second period to win the game 19-7.

GREENSBORO: The second home game of the season placed the Bison against their arch rival, Greensboro. It was the fourth loss of the season for the Bison who tallied their lone touchdown in the final period. With four minutes left in the game, Tackle Davis recovered a Whirlie fumble on their thirty. The Bison moved to a first down on the nineteen, ran three times for five yards, and then Dillon hit Ritchie in the end zone with a TD pass. The extra point attempt was blocked, and Greensboro took the game 27-6.

LEXINGTON: Lexington led at half-time with a 19-7 score; HP scored their first tally in the second period. Taking a Lexington punt on the HP forty-eight, Dillon returned the ball to the Lexington forty-five. Fullback Fuller went off tackle and outdistanced Lexington defenders for the score. Late in the third period, the Bison started a march beginning on the HP thirty-four. With Dillon and Marley doing most of the work, the Bison moved to the Yellow Jacket four. Fuller went over for the score, with Black booting the extra point, but Lexington won 19-14.

SALISBURY: At the Homecoming game, Salisbury scored first in the last of the second period. The Bison got back in the game with a quick TD after taking over on their own forty-four following the kick-off. Dillon, Marley, and Fuller bore the brunt of the attack in using eleven plays to move 56 yards to pay dirt. Dillon scored on a quarter back sneak and led 7-6, but Salisbury scored in the second and third quarters to win 20-7.

REYNOLDS: After losing six straight games, the Bison knocked off previously unbeaten Winston-Salem 20-18. The defeat was the first for the losers in 23 games. Reynolds scored early in the game, but Fuller gathered in the following kick-off and ran 90 yards for a Bison TD. Black kicked the first of two important extra points to put the Bison ahead 7-6. Winston then came back with another score to surge ahead 12-7. Dillon, following a Winston fumble on their own twenty-eight, sneaked over for the Bison's 13-12 halftime lead. Marley increased the spread to 20-12 before Winston charged back to narrow the score 20-18. A great defensive effort on the part of the Bison at the end of the game saved the day.

GREENSBORO: For the first time since 1951, the Bison won over their arch rival, Greensboro. This game proved to be the finest offensive effort of the season for the Bison. The defense also looked much improved with Black, Mabe, Carr, and Kester being the defensive stand-outs.

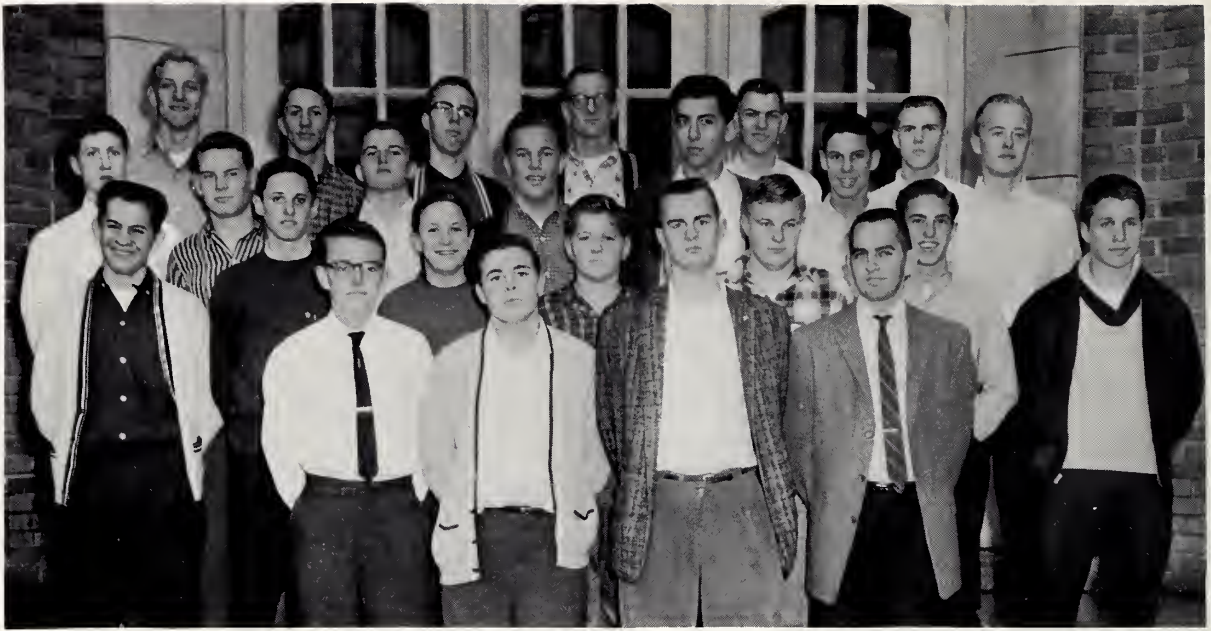

With Fuller and Marley paving the way, the Bison scored touchdown for touchdown with the Whirlies and finally took the lead in the final minute to win 26-21. QB Dillon, Fuller, Marley, and Mabe led this final march of the night. The Whirlies made a futile effort in the last thirty seconds, but failed as High Point fans rolled onto the field to congratulate their team and Coach Hips.

BURLINGTON: After the opening kick-off, the Bison moved the ball in eight plays to pay dirt and led 6-0. Two Burlington TD's later, High Point came back after the kick-off and drove 71 yards for the score, with Black making the conversion. At halftime the Bulldogs led 14-13. Burlington took the second half kick-off and moved 71 yards for another TD. But on the second play from scrimmage, Dillon threw a 41-yard pass to Ritchie for another quick touchdown. Black kicked the extra point, but the Bulldogs won the contest 28-26.

Mr. Opponent tackles Mr. High Point in an exciting JV contest.

Coached by Mr. Larry Bostian and led by tri-captains Keith McDowell, Jeff Robinson, and Burnell Wise, the 1959 Junior Varsity Football Team played eight exciting games. Because of the inexperience of the squad and the loss of ninth graders, the team was hurt; but the boys showed good sportsmanship throughout the season. Playing each team twice—Burlington, Greensboro, Salisbury, Winston-Salem, the Baby Bison tied one and lost seven.

At mid-season the J V cagers had a conference standing of 3-3 with six games to be played. Suffering earlier defeats at the hands of Greensboro and Winston-Salem, the Baby Bison rallied to win the next three games against Lexington, Salisbury, and Burlington. Other non-conference games won by the JV team were played against Garinger, Thomasville, Asheboro, and Morehead. Throughout the season, the team displayed excellent sportsmanship and good potential ability. At Pemican press time the team had an over-all record of 7-13.

BASKETBALL HEADS—Co-captain Lyman Dillon, Coach A. J. Simeon, Co-captain Richard Carmichael.

Coached by A. J. Simeon, the Bison cagers had a 10-4 record at Pemican press time with six games still scheduled to be played.

CHARLOTTE GARINGER: The Bison started off the season at home with a win over Garinger of Charlotte. Co-captain Richard Carmichael had 30 points to lead the Bison. The Bison were accurate 76% from the free throw line and 46.5% from the floor to take the Wildcats 63-50.

DANVILLE: Co-captains Dillon and Carmichael led the Bison to their second victory in as many starts. Dillon had 16 points while Carmichael put 21 points through the net. Behind 29-25 at halftime, the Bison quintet made a strong comeback to win 67-52.

RALEIGH: This game proved to be the worst effort of the season for the Bison as Raleigh played their best game of the year.

Cagers thrill fans with exciting contests,

Although Raleigh took advantage of every Bison error, Carmichael had 25 points to pace the Bison. Jim Fuller had 9 for runner-up honors for High Point as the Bison met their first defeat 67-49.

WILMINGTON: In the second game of a two-day tournament in Raleigh, the Bison met the Wilmington Wildcats in a thriller. With about ten seconds left in the game, Carmichael made a shot under the basket to put the Bison ahead 46-45. As the final buzzer was about to ring, Bill Brogden got a shot off for Wilmington from their own foul circle that swished the net and gave Wilmington the win 47-46. Carmichael had 26 to lead the Bison.

ASHEBORO: In the first game after the Christmas holidays, the Bison played the Asheboro Comets. Carmichael with 12, Dunlap with 10, Moose and Fuller with 9 each led the Bison to victory. Although the Bison quint looked rusty after the holidays, the final score was 50-39, High Point.

RALEIGH: High Point met Raleigh with revenge in their minds, and that is just what they got. Carmichael had 26 to lead the Bison, but Harold Moose with 13 proved to be the hero in an overtime win: He hit 7 out of 9 free throws in the overtime to give the Bison a 58-52 win.

LEXINGTON: Never behind, the Bison emptied the bench as they beat Lexington 70-50. Carmichael, the 4-A scorer in the state, had 30 for top scoring honors, with Dunlap putting 17 through the hoops.

GREENSBORO: The Bison couldn't get things to go right for themselves as they lost to their arch-rival, Greensboro. Monopolizing on the weak Bison defense, the Whirlies used the fast-break to take the Bison 61-49.

REYNOLDS: The Bison continued the home win skein with a victory over R. J. Reynolds 68-48. Carmichael with 19 and Dillon with 16 led the Bison to victory over the Demons. Dillon had 11 straight free-throws before missing his first in three games. Accuracy from the free-throw line was a main factor in the Bison attack all year.

Harold Moose (5) goes in for a score in the Bison victory over George Washington High of Danville, Virginia.

GARINGER: Moving to Garinger for their tenth game of the season, the Bison wanted to break out-of-town jinx; and they did it in fine fashion. Carmichael with 32 and Howard Smith with 13 led the Bison over the Wildcats for the second time 78-66. Four Bison hit in double figures.

REYNOLDS: The Bison just could not put the ball through the hoop, and Reynolds showed great improvement. The Bison could not get back in the game after falling behind 20-8 in the first quarter, and lost 63-53.

SALISBURY: This game was one of the Bison's best efforts as they won over the tough Salisbury team 57-38. With only a 2 point lead in the third period, the Bison scored 23 points in the final quarter while holding Salisbury to 6. Jim Fuller did a magnificent job on defense on Eddie Kesler, holding him to only 5 points in the second half.

MOREHEAD: The Bison five took Morehead handily by a 52-46 margin. Never trailing, the Bison led 35-20 at halftime. Carmichael had 22 points for the Bison.

BURLINGTON: For 32 minutes High Point and Burlington played good basketball, and the game ended in a 46-46 tie. In the first 3-minute overtime, each team scored 2 points with Fuller scoring for the Bison. In the next overtime, which was a sudden-death period, neither team scored. In the next sudden-death overtime, with 2:56 left, Richard Carmichael calmly dropped two freethrows through the hoop to give the Bison a 50-48 victory. The High Point High School matmen had a pretty tough season, but the boys did a fine job. They dropped only one match by a large margin, and that was to Statesville. Although the scoreboard showed a record of one win and eleven losses, the individual records for some of the boys were very good. Undefeated were Gary Gregg with two pins, a decision, and a tie in four outings; Jimmy White with two pins and three decisions; and Bill Michaels leading the team with five pins and three decisions in eight outings. Other big men for the squad were Jim Morgan with a pin, two decisions, and a tie; Gerald Swain with two pins, two decisions, and a tie; and Jimmy Bohannon with two pins, three decisions, and two ties. The Bison cindermen turned in a 2-2-0 record for the season. They lost their first two meets of the season to R. J. Reynolds and Greensboro. However, the Bison came back to a 80½-30½ win over Burlington and Gray in a triangle meet, and then romped over Page and Greensboro with a 81-30 victory. High Point captured ten first places out of thirteen in this meet.

The Bison were strongest in the field events with Joe Trepke, John Kirkman, Alan Hart, David Boyd, and Gary Gregg winning at least one first place each. Top runners for the Bison were Tom Honeycutt, Bucky Snider, Donald Efird, and Frank DeSaix.

High Point was represented at the state meet in Durham by John Kirkman, high jump; Joe Trepke, shot put; Jim Marley, 100 and 220-yard dash; David Boyd, discus; Dallas Campbell, discus; Bill Gluyas, shot put; and Frank DeSaix, 440-yard dash. Joe Trepke, with a third, was the only High Point boy to place.

Although the tennis team of 1959 did not win all the games, they displayed a great amount of skill and sportsmanship.

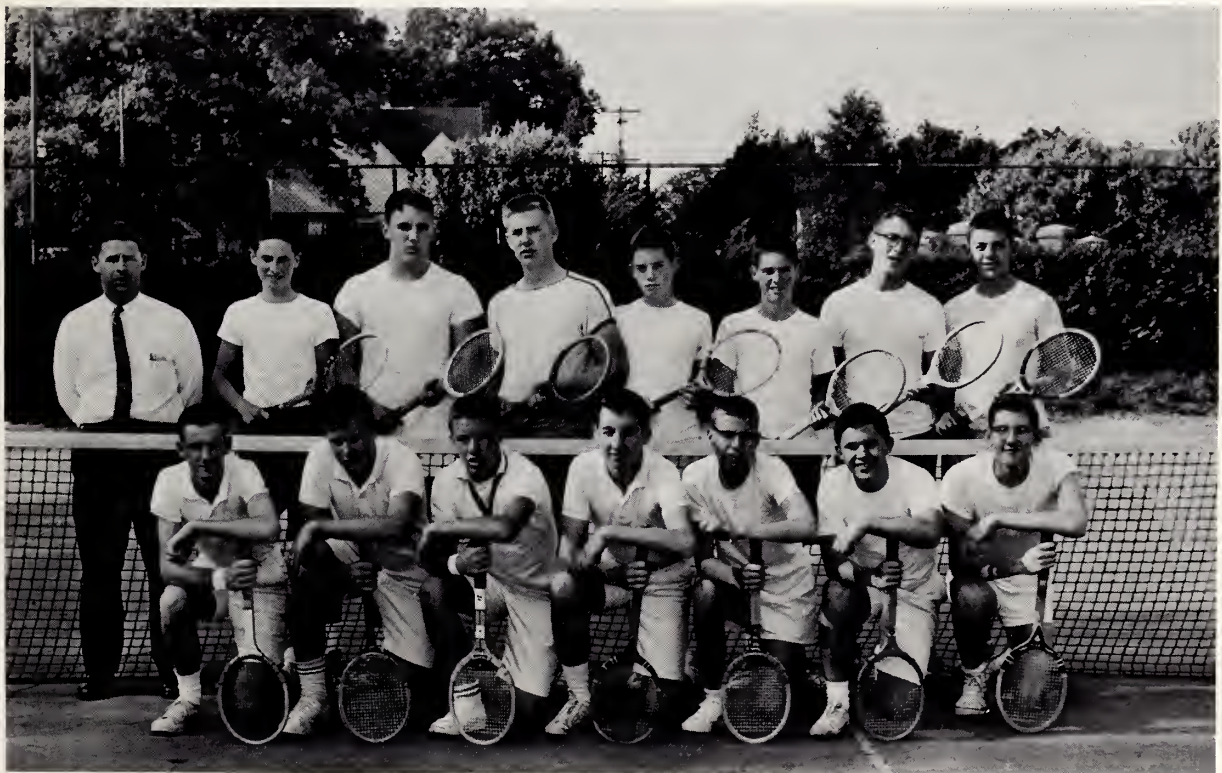

Playing against some of the strongest teams in the state, the team won 2 out of 9 games. In tennis both singles and doubles matches are played. Since a team wins on an all-around basis, the final score does not always tell the true story.

The top six men, in order of ability, were Leon Raper, Bill Davis, David Dahle, Lyman Dillon, Graham Marlette, and Billy Burris. The doubles teams were Leon Raper and Bill Davis, first team; David Dahle and Lyman Dillon, second team; Billy Burris and Bill Wyche, third team.

Coached by Bob Patton, the team played the following opponents: Burlington, Greensboro, Lexington, Page, R. J. Reynolds, Salisbury, and Thomasville.

GAA sponsors Senior High's girls' sports.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association was to create an active interest in sports among the high school girls. This group of hearty athletic enthusiasts carried on organized activities from September to May. These activities included basketball in the winter, volleyball, tennis, and softball in the spring. Throughout each sport, the highest ideals of good sportsmanship were upheld.

A selected number of skilled girls engaged in varsity basketball. Through this competitive sport, the team members built healthy bodies and also learned many vital lessons in good sportsmanship and teamwork. At Pemican press time the starting six were: forwards, Nancy Culler, Brenda Jo Thomas, and Brenda Parrish; guards, Toni DeMarvo, Sally Smith, and Elizabeth Reavis. The team was scheduled to play Greensboro, Page, and Salisbury. Following basketball season, a banquet was held and a trophy was awarded to the most valuable senior player. Mrs. Elizabeth Grantham was the GAA adviser.

Led by David R. Williams, Charlie Shapard, and Joyce Groome, the Student Council strove to maintain a higher moral standard, to develop leadership and intelligent "followership," to insure a spirit of democracy, to promote a closer relationship between the faculty and the student body, to create a respect and ambition for higher scholastic attainments, and to encourage co-operation and participation of students in all school activities. With these ideals in mind, the Council organized its two branches, Upper and Lower House, to serve the school.

The Upper House was composed of two representatives from each class and the three officers. The Lower House comprised representatives from each home room. Led by Charlie Shapard, the group held classes in leadership, parliamentary procedure, and related fields.

The 1959-60 Council's activities included maintenance of a student phone office, daily devotions, a Club of the Month program, sponsorship of a clean-up week, sale of Bison pennants and sweaters, and the annual Talent Show.

In 1959, David Williams was elected president of the District Student Council Congress. Accompanied by Miss Louise Hunter, adviser, HPHS delegates attended this convention and others on the district, state, and national levels during the year.

One of Reta Wiley's many jobs in the General Office is running off stencils.

Student helpers contributed greatly to the smoothness and efficiency of the General Office. The office girls performed such duties as running errands, filing information, answering the telephone, sorting the daily mail, unpacking and stamping books, and keeping the bookroom in top condition. These volunteer helpers donated their study periods, thought, and energy to the service of the school.

Assistants in the Dean's Office were "right-hand" helpers for Mr. Vance, as they typed the daily bulletin, issued tardy slips, helped with attendance records, wrote check-outs, ran errands, answered the telephone, filed information, and assisted with the work of the clinic. Their services, like those of all HPHS volunteer workers, contributed to the school's daily success.

Students gain experience as secretaries,

The Student Secretaries, a service group composed of Business Education majors, rendered their valuable services to Senior High's faculty members. Under the general supervision of Miss Eleanor Shumaker, the staff applied their skills by typing business letters, cutting stencils for tests, study guides, and other supplementary material for the teachers. After duplicating copies, the girls carefully counted, to be sure they had the proper number.

The Phone Office Staff members—two for each period of the day—gave up their study time to be of service to HPHS students. The main duty of the staff was to keep order in the office and to see that everyone used the phone quickly and correctly. The staff also had charge of lost-and-found articles. The phone office was a service of the Student Council.

RADIO STAFF—Clockwise: Williams, Noles, Marshall, Roberts.

The library staff checked books in and out of the library, put cards in the books and returned them to the shelves, filed cards in the card catalogue, and prepared books for circulation. The staff also worked on the library bulletin boards. The task of repairing new books for circulation was one of their larger projects. Mrs. Nancy Poston was adviser.

Composed of boys interested in radio electronics, the radio staff operated Radio Station WHPS at 89.3 megacycles during the year. One of the few schools in the area to have its own station, Senior High maintained high standards of broadcasting. WHPS played music each afternoon and broadcasted school sports events.

The projection staff, with Mr. Bernie Sheffield as adviser, assisted teachers in the use of the audio-visual equipment and record players. The boys also showed motion pictures to scheduled classes.

Jerry Koontz waits his turn at the student store, as Jane Howell sells Wayne Andrews a pencil.

"I want two packs of paper and a pencil. Please make it quick!" cried an eager student. These words or some similar to them were spoken many times a day at the school store. Two girls assisted each period, volunteering their study time to be of service to High Point High School. Supervised by Mrs. Dorothy Whitesell, the store was open from 8:40 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon. Through the process of selling school supplies, the girls received valuable sales experience and also rendered service to their fellow students. Besides keeping the store clean and in order, they also clipped coupons from wrappers to win prizes for the school. Always wearing a friendly smile, the store clerks acquired an excellent reputation for their courtesy and efficiency.

store clerks, transportation by bus drivers.

Many of Senior High's students ride a county school bus to and from school.

Four boys and one girl drove the familiar orange buses to and from school each morning and afternoon, making certain that students arrived at their destinations promptly and safely. From Oak View, Max Furr and Billy Stafford manned their buses to Northeast Junior High School and to Senior High School. From Oak Hill, Sandy Smith, the only girl driver, piloted her bus to Johnson Street Elementary School, Tomlinson Elementary School, Ferndale Junior High School, and Senior High School. Also from Oak Hill, Darrell Proctor dropped students at Ferndale Junior High School before coming to Senior High; and Cletus Combs drove his bus to Cloverdale Elementary School, Ferndale Junior High School, and Senior High. Mrs. Johnsie Jackson, secretary of HPHS, supervised the bus drivers.

Professional assistants see to the welfare

Unknown to many, three gentlemen performed full-time tasks vital to the welfare of each HPHS student.

Mr. Jack Cox, superintendent of building and grounds, kept the physical aspects of Senior High in good condition.

As purchasing agent, Mr. Walter F. Jones, Jr., had charge of buying all equipment and supplies for the High Point Schools.

A reassuring person to any one with business at school after dark was Mr. Robert W. Ring, the school nightwatchman.

Several students worked in the cafeteria. Girls made sandwiches and served food in the hot line. Boys washed dishes. Each received his lunch as compensation for his service.

of HPHS students.

The maids, janitors, and cooks were among the many people who helped to make Senior High run smoothly. Feeding nearly a thousand people a day for one hundred and eighty days was no easy task. The cooks prepared food all morning under the direction of Mrs. Meeta Jackson, dietician. While students and teachers were at lunch, and after school hours, the maids swept and dusted the rooms and lockers. The janitors made necessary repairs, operated the furnace, and kept the building in general good order.

FTA float wins first prize in Homecoming

Watts, Queen; Linda Evans, Maid of Honor; Jean Craven, Junior Attendant.

The tension and excitement felt at the Homecoming game is reflected on the faces of Cheerleaders Linda Weisner, Carolyn Martin, and Liz Oldham.

Although High Point lost its game with Salisbury, Homecoming Day, which was sponsored by the cheerleaders, was the most spectacular event of the football season. The classes and organizations prepared floats for the parade, and promptly at 2:30 in the afternoon the gaily decorated floats moved slowly down Main Street. First prize in the competition was won by the float sponsored by the Future Teachers of America.

The highlight of the activities was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Linda Watts, by Mayor Jess Washburn. Linda was escorted by Carroll Leary. Her attendants were Linda Evans, Maid of Honor, escorted by Kenny Kearns; Carole Simeon, Senior Attendant, escorted by George Hayworth; Jean Craven, Junior Attendant, escorted by Charles Mendenhall; and Becky Smith, Sophomore Attendant, escorted by Charlie Shapard.

A radiant Queen, Linda Watts, reigned over the Homecoming festivities.

The winning float in the Homecoming Parade was the FTA entry. The float used the theme of "We'll l'arn 'em 'n We'll lick 'em," and featured a little red school house and several old-fashioned students.

On October 12, forty-eight college representatives attended High Point High School's annual College Day program. The representatives came from colleges in North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Virginia, and Ohio. The program furnished opportunity for long-range thinking.

Seniors, juniors, and sophomores took advantage of the opportunity to talk to representatives of their choice about scholarships, college entrance requirements, applications, and their own high school records. During the afternoon session, seniors from a county high school interviewed the representatives.

The sponsors of College Day, members of the National Honor Society and the Beta Club, entertained the representatives during the morning with a coffee break and at lunch in the school cafeteria.

The choral department presented the annual "Lights of Christmas" program on December 13 and 18. Directed by Miss Staley, the choirs gave inspirational performances for both the student body and the public.

Each of the four choirs sang several individual selections. All choral groups joined together in singing the last number, "The Hallelujah Chorus," from The Messiah.

Narrators for the Christmas story were Sandra James and John Eddinger. Members of the tableau included Nancy Grimsley as Mary and Trudge Herbert as Joseph. The Angel was portrayed by Rosemary Heer. Clem Higgins, Doyle Early, John Conrad, Charles Mendenhall, J. R. Maners, and Jimmy Simeon played the parts of the shepherds and the kings.

Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Lowe directed the speech and tableau parts of the program.

Proceeds from junior and senior plays

Gary Dennis, Charlie Shapard, Rebecca Ragan, Sara Norman, Mary Lynda Eagle.

"Don't shoot, sheriff!" wails Mary Martha Hutchns to Jerry Long.

The Senior Class, under the direction of Miss Ruth Goodman, produced the play "Tish." So many seniors tried out for this play that Miss Goodman chose a double cast.

Tish (Liz Oldham and Rebecca Ragan), a middle-age spinster, was blunt, outspoken, and entirely lovable. In order to become better acquainted with nature, Tish and her companions Lizzie (Rosemary Heer and Sara Norman) and Aggie (Mary Lynda Eagle and Myra Bullock) went on a driving excursion in a second-hand car. On this trip, Tish got into jam after jam.

Other members of the cast were David R. Williams, Jerry Beck, Charlie Shapard, Jerry Long, Mary Martha Hutchens, Linda Weisner, Carole Kearns, Dawn Austin, Pat Halker, Linda Watts, Judy Loflin, Linda Culler, and Polly Colville, prompter.

The Junior Class of HPHS presented their class play on November 20 and 21. "The Inner Willy," a three-act comedy, was directed by Miss Eleanor Tapp.

The story revolved around Willoughby Adams, a sixteen-year-old boy who was overly protected by his three old maid aunts. Inner Willy was Willoughby's "inner man." Willoughby was the only person who could see or hear him. This situation brought about some very difficult problems for Willoughby.

Michael Pierce played the part of Willoughby Adams, and Jerry Proffitt, the part of Inner Willy. His ever-faithful aunts were Louise, played by Sylvia Freeman and Toni Rochelle; Hester, Jimmie Hart and Sylvia Saunders; Olga, Beth Parks and Carolyn Conrad. Other players included Lettie Mehan, Rose Anne Boyles, John Eddinger, and Barry Hyman. Frankie Peters served as stage manager.

Mike, played by Barry Hyman, seems to be enjoying the company of Mary Belle Turner, the girl-next-door, played by Peggy Wiley and Pat Thompson in "The Inner Willy."

Council production displays student talent;

Aboard the S.S. Caribbean, Bill Davis presents his unusual Talent Show Act—a series of magic stunts.

Judy Loflin's talent was jazz dancing to the tune of "Hide and Seek."

The 1959 talent show, sponsored by the Student Council, opened aboard the S.S. Caribbean as it took its "cruise" to Jamaica for the "Jamaica Jubilee," a tourist attraction of gay festivities. Nine-tenths of the performers presented musical acts, accompanied by the dance band, under the direction of Mr. David L. Carter. The remainder of the acts were dance routines and magic stunts. Dwight Wheless was master of ceremonies for the evening presentations on March 20 and 21. A third performance was held on March 23 for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Student committees, with faculty advisors, worked with Mr. Eulis Bays, talent show faculty sponsor, on publicity, scenery, tickets, set decoration, make-up, stage, and lighting. A committee of girls who served as marshals collected tickets and distributed programs.

Jr.-Sr. features unusual theme of "Picnic."

If ever the world was seen through rose-colored glasses, it was on the night of the Junior-Senior prom, May 1, when pink decorations entirely camouflaged the old gymnasium. The theme, which was "Picnic," could well have been Pink-nic since everything, from the pink lights dancing on the frothy cotton candy sky to the little pink mill spilling water of the same color over its waterwheel, was tinted this rosy hue.

During intermission, the sponsors and officers of the Junior and Senior classes formed two mill wheels, one inside the other, which slowly revolved in opposite directions to the music.

Home economics students served punch and cookies to the attenders.

The dance was chaperoned by the faculty and by the parents of Junior and Senior class members.

Tommy Woolen and his Blue Notes played melodies, dreamy and spicy, while couples danced throughout the evening.

Bucky Snider and Sandra James, Starr Sherman and Harold Woodell, and Mary Womack and Jerry Beck dance at the Jr.-Sr.

Tables were set up around the gym for the convenience of tired dancers. On the west wall of the gym was a large picnic basket denoting the dance's theme—"Picnic."

The future belongs to those who

A senior receives his diploma, and thus a twelve-year chapter in his life is closed. Pensively, he looks back over years of studying, learning, and hoping for the day when he will be on his own. He looks ahead to the responsibilities he must assume. For a moment he is afraid, but he is reassured by the thought that the future is his.

Thank You...

To you, Mr. Whitley, our special thanks for your timely suggestions and your words of encouragement during our "dead-line days." Although we didn't see you everyday, we knew you were there, with your support of our project.

Teachers, each of you seemed to be "wells" of patience during the picture-taking interruptions. You were invaluable to us when it came to collecting money for Pemicans and pictures, and we especially appreciated your co-operation on the day the Pemicans came out!

Students, even though there were times when we wished that there weren't so many of you, we appreciated your help when it came to identifying the countless pictures that went into this book. We're sorry we told you that the 1960 Pemican was going to be fuschia with purple stripes, but we knew you didn't believe us anyway!

A yearbook cannot be produced through the efforts of only one person; it takes the co-operation of many people to do the job well. Even though we fussed at you, Pemican staff members, you have been a tremendous group. To Bill, our official photographer, and to Henry, Scotty, and Bobby, thanks a million for all the work you did on your own time to get pictures for us. Frances, Judi Beth, and Carleen, our typists, rate a high note of thanks for the many hours they put in to get the pages and pages of copy typed perfectly. Becky and Connie led their picture-identifiers, Kay, and Billie Anne, through the mountainous stack of pictures.

They completed the almost impossible task of identifying each person correctly (we hope). The sports staff—Nancy C., Toni, Charlie, Douglas, and Doyle are the next to thank. June, Polly, and Jane were our able senior statisticians; and Ginger and Linda performed the tremendous task of copying the dummy. Thank you, Betty, Lucy, and Rebecca, for writing copy so efficiently. Last, but not least, our thanks to Gary, who was always on hand to do any odd jobs that popped up.

Thanks to our business staff—Margaret, Mary Frances, Jean, Brenda, Ann, Nancy S., Anita, Peggy, Gayle, Jane, Libby, Claude, Martha, Lettie Faye, Pat, and Annette for "bringing home the bacon."

There are several people at Delmar Studios that we wish to thank: Mrs. Marjorie Bartlett for her invaluable advice about our layout; Mr. Max Ward and Mr. Whitie Boswell for making the individual pictures and many of the group pictures in our book; and Mr. Virgil Spencer and all the people at Delmar for their advice to us and their interest in our publication.

The Prudential Insurance Company of America rates our special gratitude. We are indebted to them for the use of their slogan on pages 196-197.

There is one person we haven't mentioned, but we have by no means forgotten her. Miss Tapp, you have been "the greatest." For your unending patience, for everything you have done for us, we say to you a simple, but sincere "Thank you."
